Frustrate Attempt To Blow Up School At Shawnigan Lake

Detonating Cap Is Found Under Generator in Power Plant; Residents Aroused by Fourth Attempt at Incendiary in Last Week; Police Make Exhaustive Investigations

Within a week of the attempt to destroy the Shawnigan Lake mill, officials yesterday evening foiled a firebug's efforts to blow up the power plant of the Shawnigan Lake school for boys. C. W. Lonsdale, principal of the school, stated this morning it was the second attempt in as many nights to wreck the school.

On Saturday evening a man was seen off the premises before making any preparations, while yesterday evening a detonating cap and a line of fuse were found in the power plant. The cap had been set directly under the base of one of the generators.

Residents of the lake have been aroused by the attempts and provincial police of Duncan, acting under instructions from headquarters here, are conducting exhaustive investigations to bring the firebug to justice.

The attempt to burn the school has been definitely linked with the efforts to destroy the mill with a quantity of powder, while a report that someone was heard prowling around in the basement of Mrs. W. Hayward's store, Penn-Y-Wern, is regarded by some as another frustrated attempt to wreck the school.

Mrs. Hayward accused the prowler off when she started to investigate. People around the lake generally believe that the person responsible for the recent attempts to destroy the school is a man named "Red" who has been seen in the vicinity.

The attention of the school officials was attracted yesterday evening by the opening of the door to the plant. M. C. Hawkford, one of the engineers, who heard the movement, immediately summoned Mr. Lonsdale by means of a telephone alarm, which has been connected at his bedside.

At a quarter after midnight, Mr. Lonsdale, with Ben. Friend, an employee, went to the powerhouse where they found the fuse and the cap. In the meantime, Second Engineer Shamus saw a man running into the bush nearby, but was unable to catch him or secure an accurate description.

On Saturday night a man was seen near Mr. Lonsdale's private quarters. Constables S. Service and T. Lashmar, who were summoned from Duncan provincial police headquarters by Mr. Lonsdale, are conducting the investigations.

SHOW RISE IN PREPAYMENTS

The prepayments to the city coffers continued to flow in steadily at the end of last week, attaining totals not far below those of 1933, when records were established, a check of the books revealed to-day.

Up to Saturday those partially meeting their levies in advance had paid in $667,476, against $666,195 for the same period last year.

Prepayment in full, started when all notices went out last month, by Saturday had reached an aggregate of $165,592, against $155,695 for the 1933 period.

While the general totals lagged 15.13 behind the joint totals of the first six months fourteen days last year, the recent rise in payments was seen as encouraging by treasury officials.

Japan and China accounted for most of the increase, while the United Kingdom took an additional 1,000,000 board feet, and Africa showed a similar jump. Australian business was less than in May.

Figures for the first six months of this year, amounting to 425,573,000 feet, compared with 349,590,747 in the corresponding period of 1933.

If confirmed, Don will be served in New Douglas prison. Don was convicted Saturday night.

C.C.F. Retains North Vancouver Seat in By-election When Mrs. Steeves Wins

North Vancouver, July 16.—The party standing in the Eleventh Legislative of British Columbia was unchanged to-day from its original division. In Saturday's by-election Mrs. Dorothy Gretchen Steeves retained for the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation the North Vancouver seat, made vacant by the death of H. C. E. Anderson, C.C.F.

Mrs. Steeves had a majority of 505 over Macdonald, 2,284; E. E. Leary, United Front, 150, and James Witham, Independent, 41.

The successful C.C.F. candidate polled 2,789 votes, more than that gained by Mr. Anderson in winning the seat in the general election last November. Dixon, dyking commissioner for the province, will reach here to-morrow, and is to confer with Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, on the matter.

Parties to the controversy "should sit at a table and settle this thing by arbitration," Gen. Johnson said.

He announced his intention of going to San Francisco to study the strike situation.

Vancouver Watches Port Strike in U.S.

Vancouver, July 16.—With reports of San Francisco's general strike becoming more grim each hour, residents of this city to-day were gratulating themselves in the belief they will not be directly affected.

Vancouver's food supply is not endangered as the province's supply is being diverted to rail and road. This procedure has been followed for some weeks, the cars being headed outside the strike area.

While labor troubles at United States Pacific coast ports have greatly decreased exports from that region, it is said British Columbia exports have not yet been affected to any appreciable extent. Shippers say customers do not expect the strike to last long and have not swifter their orders to Canadian mills.

In the general provincial election of November, she was a C.C.F. candidate in Vancouver-Point Grey, polling 7,214 votes in the three-seat constituency. Three Liberals were elected, but the three C.C.F. candidates were directly behind them in the field of fifteen.

Other preparations by the committee indicated a general programme of union controlled service of necessities.

MORE POLICE

Chief of Police William J. Quinn started mobilization of a force of war veterans to augment 200 special officers already sworn in.

Mayor Angelo J. Rossi of San Francisco announced appointment of an "emergency committee" of 500 citizens to direct plans for distributing necessities.

Plans for a general strike, while, were reported "proceeding with all possible haste" by a police committee representing unions at Portland, Ore., another of the Pacific Coast seaports blockaded since the walkout movement was started by longshoremen May 9.

WORST SINCE 1906

Mayor Rossi declared the strike was the greatest disaster that has fallen on the Golden Gate city since the earthquake and fire of 1906.

ARMED MEN ON TRUCKS

Edward D. Vandeleur, president of the San Francisco Central Labor Council, in a statement, declared the San Francisco industrial Association was placing 750 "strike-breaking" trucks with armed guards in service to move freight from warehouses and docks.

Lights and power for the strike-blocked metropolitan area, approximately the size of the state of Rhode Island, was cut off by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers voted not to walk out.

A strike summary by the Associated Press:

The ten-week-old United States Pacific Coast longshoremen's strike developed today into a mass labor movement which threatened to bring walkouts of most unions in all Pacific ports.

San Francisco—Food distribution, except for milk and bread, on "ration" basis. Transportation facilities from street car strike and resulting shortages. Four thousand National Guardsmen on the scene.

Oakland—Mass strike set for Tuesday, to include workers on key systems interrupting connecting with one of the two trans-bay ferry systems carrying thousands daily to and from San Francisco.

Portland—On-duty unions reported ready for mass strike unless waterfront employers agree to demands of maritime unions, including some points unions refuse to arbitrate.

San Pedro, Cal.—Three ships were worked, six striking longshoremen were arrested and two waters aboard the liner California beaten in Los Angeles harbor strike developments.

Gas Bombs And Guns Used In San Francisco Strike

Scientist of Czechoslovakia Extracts Yellow Salt From Pitchblende; Is Believed to Contain the World's Heaviest Substance

By Oscar Leiding, Associated Press Correspondent

London, July 15.—A pinch of yellow salt, made largely of something essence hitherto supposed likely to exist only in stars, has been extracted from pitchblende by a Czechoslovakian.

This salt, 115 milligrams, or about enough to season a breakfast omelette, is the rarest, newest and scientifically the most precious substance in creation. Its basic substance is reported to be the heaviest material ever found.

The salt is the first tangible evidence of the existence of the long-sought and long-doubted element number 88. Permet, the Italian scientist, recently announced he had created artificially a heavy substance that appeared to be element 88, by bombarding uranium, the heaviest known element, with neutrons.

Permet's artificial substance mostly consisted of an orange mineral. There was not enough to weigh or measure except by atomic calculation.

The Czechoslovakian matter, as announced by Dr. O. Kobilic in Prague, the British official scientific journal, is somewhat different. It is not only tangible, but does not belong to the uranium family. It is a hitherto unknown form of actinium.

NEAVEST ELEMENT

At the top of all the different kinds of matter, the three heaviest are uranium, actinium and thorium. Such is radioactive, that is, it disintegrates ultimately into lead. There are fifteen stages in uranium's disintegration, fifteen different forms which it assumes as its substance changes in spontaneous radiation, or rays, that are actinium, thorium, actinium and thorium each take ten stages in disintegrating. The father of the actinium family is a heavy element named protactinium, which is element 91, next in heaviness to uranium, which ranks as element 92.

STARS STUDIED

The main reason why scientists for years have thought there might not be more than ninety-two basic elements has been the failure to find anything heavier than number 92. Even the surfaces of the stars were supposed to be made of nothing but known elements, because spectroscopes show what kinds of atoms exist on the surface of any star whose light can be seen through a telescope.

Feynman, however, has calculated that within the hot interiors of stars solid matter might exist "in a different state." Particularly it is the matter that is so hot and so dense that it might be packed more closely, and so form substances heavier than uranium.

TON TO CUBIC INCH

Support for this state in the belief that the companion star of Sirius appears to contain substance weighing a ton per cubic inch.

The pitchblende from which the yellow salt was extracted produces the one element which is the city's most famous criminal trial.

A messenger of the Bank of Montreal was held up in a subway and shot to death, and the messenger found on him led police to a hideout of well-organized criminals.

Gas Bombs And Guns Used In San Francisco Strike

Year gas and other gas bombs have already been used numerous times on the San Francisco waterfront since the longshoremen's strike started in May. The above picture shows a policeman as he threw a gas bomb. He was accompanied by a policeman with a riot gun. As the general strike started this morning the police and troops were reinforced, the number being almost doubled.

San Francisco, July 15.—The government of Canada, through Mrs. Sumner V. Bolas, attorney, today had asked extradition of Joseph Carneri, wanted in Montreal on a charge of robbery and murder in connection with the Bank of Montreal holdup there on April 1, 1934.

Carneri, a Montrealer, was arrested by the Montreal police on August 11.

Among the buildings were the Franklin Hotel, the hotel annex, Butcher's Drug Store, the general store, the bank, the post office, the Shell's Meat Market, John Parry's General Store and the Gem Confectionery.

The fire started next door to the hotel and within a few minutes was raging throughout the whole block.

No deaths or injuries were reported as the fire burned itself out. Extent of the loss is roughly estimated at $150,000.

Plan Welcome For Navy Guests

Canadian Press

Vancouver, July 15.—The Naval Officers' Association of B.C. is operating with Mayor L. D. Taylor's office in making arrangements for the reception of officers and men of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police last night.

The ships are on the annual cruise to visit the Americas and West Indies squadron of the Royal Navy. They are under command of Vice-Admiral Sir Robert Ross, Royal Navy, and H.M.S. Drake, R.N., who signs himself "Dras" for short.

The vice-admiral is popular following his visit two years ago in H.M.S. Drake.

H.M.S. Norfolk, his flagship, is due here August 27, to stay until September 3. H.M.S. Danae, now at Seattle, will arrive two days later, on August 29, and depart September 4.

Judgment was rendered by Mr. Justice J. E. Lamont of the Supreme Court.

Levesque and Gravelin were sentenced to four years each in penitentiary on three charges of conspiracy.

Britain To Protect Home Beef Producers

British Cattle Industry Worth 20 Per Cent More Than All Country's Overseas Investments, Hon. Walter Elliot Tells Commons

By George Hamilton, Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, July 15.—The British Government is determined to fix a minimum level for the British cattle market, the House of Commons was assured today by Rt. Hon. Walter Elliot, Minister of Agriculture.

The minister was introducing the financial resolution advancing $15,000,000 to help the British livestock trade. He was equally definite that the government would regulate imports of meat, either by voluntary agreement if possible, or by an order if necessary.

The difficult negotiations with the Dominion and the Argentine exports of meat to the United Kingdom were still proceeding.

DOMINION'S PERCENTAGES UP

He asserted the understanding reached at Ottawa, to give the Dominion a 10 per cent share of British meat imports, had been fully carried out. The percentage of imports of beef from the Dominion, which stood at 22 per cent in 1922, was now 26 per cent of the total imports; the percentage of Dominion supplies of frozen veal had risen from 18 to 24, of mutton and lamb from 12 to 15.

Of the total British meat imports, 26.6 per cent had come from the Empire in 1933, the year the Ottawa agreement was signed. The percentage had now risen to 33.8.

BRITISH PRODUCER HARD HIT

The British domestic producer, however, he stressed, could look on no such promising picture. In 1933 the home producer supplied 284,000 tons of the British market. In 1933 he had dropped to 258,000 tons. Coincidentally with the expanding share for the Empire producer there had been a declining share for the home producer.

In recent years also Britain had been consuming less beef, the minister said. In 1927 the consumption was 69 pounds per head of population. This dropped to 55.5 pounds per head.

At the same time shipments of New Zealand beef had expanded at a rate which the minister declared, imports of pork from the United States similarly had increased of the Dionne quintuplets at Corbett, injured in a crash between his motorcycle was thrown into the branches ity of constituent bodies of the federation in attendance.

Many of the delegates from both eastern and western provinces arrived came to-day, arriving by chartered bus, train and private automobile.

One, Frank E. Coburn, walked most of the way from his home city of Tor-

PARTY PREPARES TO CLIMB TALL PEAK

Mr. and Mrs. Don Munday Direct Establishment of Camp From Which the Climbers Will Start Up
Mt. Waddington

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 16.—The rugged battlements of Mount Waddington's highest peak tower grim and un-conquered to-day, 15,200 feet above sea level. Thirty miles from its base a party of human beings, determined to make a successful assault on these craggy ledges in preparation for the attempt.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Munday, Vancouver Alpinists who scaled Waddington's lower peak six years ago, are now camped on Franklin Glacier, directing the establishment of a base camp far up the giant river of ice from where they, with three others, will start the final dangerous climb toward the summit.

Supplies moved.
The Munday, aided by packers, are back-packing supplies through dense and trackless woods from tidewater at Knight Inlet to the base of the glacier and thence up the treacherous ice to the camp site, probably at Baffin Creek. A. W. Drinnan, vice-president of the Alpine Club of Canada, estimated here to-day it would take at least a week before the half-ton of supplies could all be moved.

When the camp has been established, the venturesome Munday will be joined by the remainder of the mountaineering party—Henry Hall Jr. of Boston, Hans Fuhrer, Swiss guide, and one other man whose name is not available.

Hall and his wife are now spending a holiday near Kamloops, B.C.
Fuhrer and the fifth member of the party are in Mount Robson National Park making an attempt on the seldom-climbed Mount Robson, 12,812 feet.

Cashier Is Heard at Trial

Canadian Press and Associated Press
New York, July 16.—Counsel for James C. McKay and William J. Graham, Reno, Nevada, gambling club promoters, made new onslaughts today on the testimony of a Reno bank employee in an effort to show that he had no connection with transactions which involved great sums of money and use of the mails.

The witness, Joseph M. Fustich, assistant cashier of the Riverside Bank of Reno, had told the jury McKay and Graham not only introduced and guaranteed the accounts of victims, but that they furnished cash to the bank whenever the victims needed (for the alleged swindles) more than the bank had on hand.

John Taul, San Francisco counsel for McKay and Graham, attempted to show, by means of a blue print plan, that Fustich could not have seen McKay hand over $110,000 in cash to Roy J. Price, missing cashier of the bank, in the transaction which preceded the $177,000 swindle of Kathryn K. Beeson of New York and Pittsburgh.

Fustich agreed he was in a teller's cage at the time, but said he could see over the partition.

CHICAGO HUNT FOR DILLINGER

Two Policemen Approach
Parked Cars and Are Shot
Without Warning

Associated Press
Chicago, July 16.—John Dillinger and his henchmen were hunted again to-day in the Chicago area.

The ruthlessness of an attack on the policemen, shot on sight, gave rise to reports it was the work of the Indiana desperado or his cohorts.

The two policemen came on three cars parked in "line northwest of Chicago, near the cars stood four men and a woman.

"Anything we can do to help you?" asked Policemen Fred Mc-Allister, alighting with, Policemen
Gilbert, Cramer.

The answer was a crack of pistol.
McAllister's injuries may be fatal, but McAllister's are not serious.

MORE TERROR IN AUSTRIA

Four Men Killed; Bombs Set Off; Transportation Services Interrupted

Associated Press
Vienna, July 16.—Death and dynamite wrote a grim chapter to-day in Austria, widespread bomb damage and a wave of terror over the week-end.
Cities were thrown into violence as defiant opponents of the Dollfus regime renewed their activity. Transportation services were crippled; dynamite wrecked telephone booths, mail boxes and public places.

Socialists, under cover since the bloody civil war of February, apparently have started another offensive against the government.

Republic guards attempted to hold a meeting in the Vienna woods near Kahlenberg yesterday, with nearly 1,000 Socialists on hand. Two Fascists tipped off gendarmes and their appearance on the scene brought on fighting. Three Socialists were killed.

A Nazi was killed Saturday in Vienna.

A. P. WILLIS OF MONTREAL DIES

Canadian Press
Montreal, July 16.—The Canadian piano industry has lost one of its most prominent figures in the death here of A. P. Willis, eighty-nine, president of Willis and Company Limited.

Mr. Willis had been connected with the piano business in one form or another for sixty years.

Frank S. Willis of Trail, B.C., is a son.

Mr. Willis established the Victoria branch of the firm a number of years ago and was a frequent visitor here until about ten years ago, when advancing years precluded the long trip to the Coast.

ACCIDENTS CLAIM LIVES

Eleven Persons Killed in Ontario Over Week-end

Canadian Press
Toronto, July 16.—Lives of eleven persons were claimed in Ontario over the week-end in a series of drownings, motor accidents and other accidents.

The worst tragedy occurred at Inverhuron Beach on Lake Huron near Kincardine where Joseph Todd, twelve, and her fourteen-year-old sister, Florence, were drowned, and William Lang killed by shock in an attempt to rescue them. Two youths saved Pay Todd, sixteen, another sister, from the grip of the undertow that claimed the others.

An undertow at Iperwash Beach, near Sarnia, trapped Florence Squires, thirteen, and John Deacon, thirty, of London.

CRASH AT CROSSING
Another accident in the vicinity of Sarnia cost the life of William Anderson, fifty-four-year-old section hand, hurled to death when a motor car collided with a railway passenger at a level crossing.

Students Fight
In Germany

Goettinger Scene of Clash
With Nazi Youth; Fraternities Suspended

Associated Press
Goettingen, Germany, July 16.—
One thousand students of a university here staged a "revolt" against Adolf Hitler to-day, clashing with brown-shirts and forcing the student body who support the Chancellor.

After a fiery meeting at the town hall, the rebellious students, all of them members of fraternities, fought to defend their ancient colors against a deluge of Hitlerite youths.

Homes played on the combatants by the fire department failed to stop the fight, but police finally were successful in restoring order.

Ten ring-leaders were arrested and charged with "breach of the peace and incitement to revolt."

Two fraternities were suspended until further notice by the university president, acting under pressure of the Nazi-conducted Students' Federation.

Port Smith, Ark., July 16 (Associated Press).—Sale of many thousand proportions fell yesterday in answer to prayers of thousands of Crawford County farmers who Friday knelt to ask for a drenching downpour to relieve a sector hard hit by drought.

washing is necessary.

"ROSE DAY" IN GERMANY

Over Million Sold to Give Health Trips to Women And Children

By A. D. Stafford, Associated Press
Foreign Staff

Berlin, July 16.—Germany turned yesterday from considering the after-effects of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's party cleaning to another nationwide "tag day."

This was Rose Day, in contrast to two weeks ago when armed guards held away in Berlin.

The Sunday before that, grey-uniformed youths had solicited funds on the streets for "Air Day."

Yesterday the red-roofed blood red—was the centre of attraction in German life.

Girls and young women, some 1,500,000 of them, were called from the sphere of activity the Nazis have set for them—kitchen and nursery—to sell the roses. There were 20,000,000 roses for sale at twenty pennings (about eight cents) each.

The money raised is to be spent to send mothers and children on trips for health and recreation, under the scheme of the Nazi Bureau for the People's Welfare.

PRaises FOR HITLER
The entire Nazi press poured forth to the German public over the weekend its praise of Hitler for his Reich-tag speech and gave assurances of the world's approval.

The Chancellor's address justifying the violence deaths of seventy-seven persons in the "Rochon Revolt" was lauded to the skies.

The identity of the dead, however, unrevealed by Hitler, remained unpublished by the press, and a government spokesman said the official list would never see the light of day.

BIG PAYMENTS TO U.S. FARMERS

Associated Press
Washington, July 16.—Payment of an additional $50,000,000 to wheat farmers of United States has been agreed to-day with the mailing of checks totaling $1,350,000.

This outlay, the first installment of which is to fifty-eight producers in Idaho County, Md., consists of second benefit payments of 9 cents a bushel on each farmer's domestic shipment of 25 million bushels of 1934 wheat expenditures to about $67,000,000. Farmers previously had received $57,075,793 in first benefits of 30 cents a bushel.

When payments are completed
$77,000 growers who agreed to retire $1,500,000 acres of wheat land from production will have received benefits varying from $50 to $500.

George E. Purcell, chief of the wheat section, in discussing the wheat situation, said that the current program, plus drought damage, had reduced the domestic carrying capacity from 100,000,000 bushels to about 50,000,000 bushels.

During the last year, he added, farmers had received average prices plus benefits payments which brought their returns near to parity and had saved working capital totaling $22-$30,000 on the acreage they retired from production.

Unruly Parade to German arrested yesterday evening after 100 unruly demonstrators had started a parade from Piccadilly Circus to the German embassy.

The demonstrators shouted "Release Torgler," referring to Ernst Torgler, arrested on a charge of having been involved in the burning of the German Reichstag building but still being held for investigation.

Conroy, for the last seven years a member of the editorial staff of the Border Cities Star, who last week was appointed secretary to Hon. David A.
Croft, Ontario Minister of Public Welfare and Municipal Affairs, took up his duties to-day.

A native of Winchester, Ont., Mr.
Conroy first became associated with the newspaper work in 1921 by joining The Saskatchewan Star, which he served seven years as a reporter and city editor. He joined The Border Cities Star in Windsor in 1927.

it and found the last quarter of a century had brought "amazing changes."

U.S. Stratospherists to Examine Effect of Cosmic Rays on Genetic Changes

Associated Press
Cold Spring Harbor, N.Y., July 16.—
One of the possible reasons why living beings on Mars, if they exist, are likely to be much different from ours, may be shown by the fruit flies to be taken into the stratosphere by Major Kepner and Captain Stevens in their ascent from Rapid City, South Dakota.

The flies are expected to show the extent to which cosmic rays in large numbers, such as exist in the stratosphere, may be shown by the genetic changes that result in new species and in evolution of life.

The effectiveness of the rays in evolution depends largely on the atmosphere. The earth's atmosphere is heavy enough to screen out most of them from the surface where man lives. But Mars, a smaller planet, has a lighter atmosphere. Its proportions of oxygen, water, vapor and other gases differ, so cosmic rays may penetrate the Martian air differently than on earth.

Scientists have made experiments showing the human body stops sometimes a dozen cosmic rays a minute.
This means each ray hits an atom of molecule in the body and destroys it. Now and then one of these hits might be directly on a gene, one of the molecules that carry the genetic information. Such a hit would cause a genetic mutation, a change in some hereditary character.

Ontario Man
SHOT TO DEATH

Canadian Press
Hamilton, July 16.—Two bullets of different calibre killed Frank Signum, whose body was found rammed into the rumble seat of his car on a lonely farm road near Acton
Saturday morning.

A post-mortem revealed a .22 calibre bullet and another of .32 calibre had been fired through the brain of the fifty-year-old man.

Members of the provincial police investigating the killing to-day indicated they were inquiring into the possibility Signum had been the victim of Italian gang war.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

CAN WIFE GIVE TOO MUCH ROPE?

If She Grants Husband Too Much Freedom, He May Think She Is Cooling

By HELEN WELSH

A grown-up man kicked himself out of heaven the other day. Of course he did not know that he had been living three flights up. He has no idea that he will want to run the Boston Globe again. His wife did not love him, he said. He could prove that she did not. She never gave up when he visited a casual interest in a passing woman. She did not reproach him when his philanthropic heart got torn on a car or a bicycle. She was always ready to bathe the wounds.

"If she loved me, she would object. She would be possessive. She would not want to share me," he told the judge.

"Poor man! He knows so little. He never had been told that no woman ever delights in sharing the man she loves. But there are women who consider themselves wise in believing that it is better, far better, for man to yield to a passing urge and be pined again, than to go around with a Stetson Madonna who, in his heart, is a Stetson Madonna who, it may develop, chews gum vociferously. Men have a chemical curiosity in regard to other women. Mystery attracts. Say what you please about Golden Wedding anniversaries, there is not a single Darby who has lived with a Joan for fifty years who has not wished, half a dozen times, that the tie that bound would not be likely to be untied if he leaned across the hedge of the garden wall to tell the widow in the house next door that he liked the shape of her eyebrows.

Many women have submitted—rightly or wrongly—to the widely accepted theory that a man's life must touch those of many women. The man who went on the court record because he asked for a divorce from his wife who gave him what every man wants to be given, did not deserve her. No woman naturally favors this freedom. She may accord it because she thinks she knows its value. It really has a minor rating in her husband's life. Every woman who grants it learns to do so. No one was ever born knowing it is a strange world. Mrs. O'Grady

AFTER NINETY-FIVE EVENTFUL YEARS

A trace of a smile lighting up his aged features, John B. Buchanan is shown in a new study posed specially in his Lakewood, N.E., home on the occasion of his ninety-fifth birthday. Because of the necessity of regaining some of the energy sapped during the last wave, the venerable industrialist was to have no birthday programme and no birthday "statement."

and the colonel's lady may have something in common, but men and women were never even distant cousins. There is a catch in the contract that may halt the gentlemen—temporarily—who, at first thought, crowned the divorced husband as the King of Pook. If a woman watches her husband preparing for his conquest, gently murmuring: "Don't worry, darling. Of course she'll adore you. How could any woman do otherwise?" . . . If she kisses him good-bye fondly, maybe he will begin to wonder, as the man who applied for a divorce did, how much his wife really loves him. And for that matter, how much does she?

NEW DEAL NOW FOR REINDEER

Government Will Likely Buy Out Private Companies in Alaska

Washington, July 15.—To-day isn't exactly Christmas, but your correspondent must report at once about the Jingle Bells Committee, because he has just obtained the lowdown on it.

That is not the official name for it, but it is known as the Jingle Bells Committee throughout the Interior Department, because it is the departmental committee handling the reindeer problem in Alaska. The fate of 50,000 reindeer depends on its long and frequent deliberations. Reindeer are the most supply of the Alaskan natives and the problem arises because a private company claims title to most of the animals. The villagers claim title to many of them and since the deer roam free over the range, nobody can tell which reindeer is whose. The company tries to round up the reindeer every year and brand them, but in roundups forty per cent of the little does and fawns are crushed or otherwise done to death, so what the heck?

In there going to be a New Deal for reindeer and the natives who haven't any money and must live on deer meat? You bet! The good old Jingle Bells Committee is fixing it up so Uncle Sam will buy out the private company, let the reindeer roam untamed, and allow each village to kill all it needs for food.

The company can be bought out cheap (after it is audited), because it is in bad shape, since low beef prices ruined its market for reindeer meat in the United States.

There are too many reindeer in Alaska anyway. The government introduced the first reindeer thirty years ago and they multiplied at incredible speed. Then they got mixed up with the larger caribou and grew to enormous size.

The Jingle Bells Committee plans a federal corporation which will have title to all the reindeer, with natives on the board of directors—including a few Eskimos. (PWA will pay the bill.)

NO ELECTION, PLUNKETT SAYS

Victoria M.P. Back From Ottawa Session; B.C. Berries on Menu

With the announcement there will be no federal election this autumn, D. B. Plunkett, M.P., has returned to Victoria from attending the session of the House of Commons at Ottawa. Members are anticipating that Premier Bennett will call them for another session in January.

The reason why there will be no election, he said, is that the members of the Senate business-probing committee do not sit during the hot months of July and August. They are expected to resume their investigations in September, which would mean their report would not be out before well into October and that is too near winter to hold an election in Canada.

Mr. Plunkett during the session carried on propaganda for B.C. strawberries, the first of which arrived in the east by carload before the Ontario berries were ripe. These B.C. berries Mr. Plunkett had placed on menus wherever possible. He predicted a profitable trade in B.C. growers supplying Ontario with berries after more experience is gained in handling them over the long haul across the continent.

Mr. Plunkett told how all B.C. members were unanimous in voting for taking the franchise away from the Doukhobors, which he declared was a notable piece of legislation and in line with the proper course of statehood because of the minority attitude of these Doukhobor sects.

Premier Bennett, he said, had been working so hard that he had to be absent because of his health on two occasions from the sessions of the House. He said he did not know when Mr. Bennett would attempt another visit to the Pacific Coast, as it was necessary for him to be careful. The measures under which Mr. Bennett during the session were providing the most potent means of remedying evils and helping business, commercial and agricultural interests to overcome the depression. Members found it such a trying session that several of them had to go to hospital.

As for the visit of Premier Pattullo to the B.C. cabinet ministers to Ottawa, Mr. Plunkett said it would have good results as it enabled Mr. Pattullo to understand better than before the position of the Doukhobors, and the fact that B.C. is in no worse position than the other three western provinces.

"With a careful adjusting of financial affairs, B.C. should find it easier to emerge from its present difficulties should there be a further curtailment of unemployment," Mr. Plunkett said.

Salt Spring

Ganges, July 15.—A combined country fair and sale of work, organized by the Salt Spring Island branch of the W.A. and St. Mary's Church Guild, took place in the Mahon Hall, Ganges, last Thursday afternoon.

The interior of the big hall looked very attractive, the country fair being arranged on the "picnic" and table. Numerous articles were displayed and Mrs. W. M. Palmer, with her two assistants, Mrs. D. Simon and Mrs. A. Davis, were busy throughout the afternoon. The fair was formally opened by Lady Richardson, who was accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Nelson of Deep Cove. Lady Lake congratulated the proceeds of the fair, Mrs. H. Moorhouse, and her officers and members, on the splendid display. Lady Lake, who was introduced by the Vice, Mrs. C. H. Popham, of the church guild and W.A. working together for a common cause. Lady Lake and Mrs. Nelson made a tour of the hall, visiting the country fair and the display of needle work.

Afternoon tea was in charge of Mrs. A. F. Beech, Miss Phyllis Beech and Miss Cunningham. The needle work stall was attended by the Dorcas Secretary Mrs. P. Stacey, Mrs. L. D. Drummond and Mrs. Seymour. Mrs. H. Johnson and Mrs. T. M. Jackson presided over the "picnic" and table, assisted by Miss D. Moorhouse. The home-made candy stall was in charge of Mrs. Douglas Hamilton. A novel attraction was a "musical concert" which Mrs. C. H. Popham presided. Mrs. A. J. Eaton was in charge of the lucky dip. Miss Hamilton was kept busy reading tea-soaps. While the programme of sports was run off under the superintendence of Mr. George Elliott and Colonel Snow, J. Snow conducted a "coconut shib."

Tombola prizes were won by the following: Hand-embroidered bedspread: H. W. Bullock; china bridge set: Mrs. Lionel Beddie; island tea tray: Mrs. B. Beddie; and china cake plate: Mrs. W. J. Graham. An ice-decorated fruit cake, made and presented by Mrs. Carl Seymour, for a weight guessing competition, was won by Mrs. DeBourgh. Mrs. P. L. Crofton sold ice cream and soft drinks during the afternoon. A dramatic rendering by Mrs. E. McPherson of Toronto of "The Doll's House" was enthusiastically applauded.

The afternoon's receipts amounted to $125.50. Mrs. H. Moorhouse was hostess at a luncheon party at Harbor House on Thursday. The table was prettily decorated with sweet peas and carnations in lovely shades. The guests included Mrs. C. H. Popham, Mrs. P. Stacey, Mrs. W. H. Nelson, Mrs. D. Simon, Captain F. H. Walker, R.N., Mrs. H. Johnson, Colonel Snow and James Snow, Mrs. E. McPherson, Mrs. K. Popham and Mr. and Mrs. Bullock.

HUNTER-FORRESTER

The wedding took place last Friday at the First Baptist Church, Nanaimo, of Jean, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forrester, and Thomas Robert Hunter, both of Nanaimo. Rev. A. J. Bowbrick officiated. The ceremony was performed under an archway from which a wedding bell was suspended. Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in white organdie.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Mae Forrester, as bridesmaid. The groom was supported by his brother, Leslie, as best man. Musical music was played by Miss Katie White. During the signing of the register, Mrs. K. Brankston sang, "I Love You Truly." Following the ceremony the couple left for the honeymoon and the bride's parents on their return.

WACE-SKIRSHIRE

At All Saints' Church, Shawnigan Lake, on Saturday, Van. Archdeacon Colson united in marriage Cecilia, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Skirshire of Shawnigan Lake, to Mr. Thyrkel Wace, eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. Cyril Wace of Cobble Hill. The church had been attractively decorated for the occasion by Mrs. Gooch and Mrs. M. Beasley. A. K. Wheelton played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a becoming frock of white Roubaix, with white straw hat. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Madge Skirshire, and Mr. G. Hewlett of Mill Bay, was best man. Following the service, relatives of the bride and groom attended a reception at the home of the bride's parents on the West Arm Road.

The honeymoon will be spent motoring on the Olympic Peninsula, after which Mr. and Mrs. Wace will make their home at Mill Bay.

Garden flowers in delicate summer tones decorated Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver, Saturday afternoon for a wedding of interest on Vancouver Island. Rev. C. C. Owen and Dr. W. H. Vance performed the ceremony that united in marriage Miss Margaret Tindale and Dr. Harry Warren, D. Phil. (Oxon).

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Falkland Warren, C.B. C.M.G., B.A., and of Mrs. Campion and the late Mr. J. W. Campion of Vancouver. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a Molynette gown of white velvet, flaring from the knee, with sleeves full to the elbow then tapering to the wrist. Her large bouquet allowed its top to be lined with American Beauty taffeta, to be thrown across one shoulder and fall to the hemline at the back. Prince Albert, Sask., July 16.—In the wedding gown she wore two and a half hours before her tragic death in a motor accident on the National Park Highway, twenty-six miles north of here, Thursday night, and with her bridal bouquet in the hollow of her left arm, Mrs. Muriel Marguerite Mother, twenty-five, was buried yesterday.

DONNA of the BIG TOP

by BEULAH POYNTER

Though the telephone was in a booth the door did not close properly and anyone in the office could hear a portion of the conversation taking place. Since the day before Mrs. Planter had made frequent opportunities to be in the front hallway or office, hoping for a chance to talk to Con or at least get a good look at him. Consequently as Pete darted out of the office he again came face to face with the former housekeeper. Mrs. Planter was carrying a pad and pencil to jot down the list of vegetables and meat she needed for the dinner.

Pete's haste knocked both out of her head.

"You might look where you're going," she mumbled angrily.

"Couldn't I'm in a hurry. Mr. Planter wanted on the telephone."

Mrs. Planter clicked her false teeth together and went into the office. "Mr. Planter," she said, crossing to the desk. "If you've got a minute I'd like to check up on the housekeeping. Seems to me Madeline has charged for more than three dozen eggs and that the butter—"

She leaned across the register, resting her bony figure in such a fashion that a glance now and then towards the door would appraise her of Con's entrance.

Rader was a peevish man. While it was against orders for his "girls" to hang around the office, if Mrs. Planter was trying to save him money he could overlook a breach of rules. He adjusted his spectacles on his knobby nose and peered at the pad she offered. And he said nothing after the accounts were added to his satisfaction, when the woman crossed to the window and, under pretext of looking outside, stood listening to what Con said over the telephone.

There was no need for the eavesdropper to hear Donna's words. For Con's replies gave all the information she needed.

"Con?"

"Yes."

"This is Donna."

"I've about time. What's the idea of holding me up? I want to be alone and my husband—"

"Jeez, eh? Well, listen. I want to see you. Shall I come out there?"

"Oh, no! What do you want? What brings you to Lebanon?"

"You, of course. If I can't come to your house where will you meet me?"

"I—I don't know. I really shouldn't meet you at all. I—I don't want to seem unfriendly. Con but—well, you see grandfather—old Mr. Sidel is very ill."

"That's one of the reasons I'm here."

"I don't understand."

"I think you do. I'd like to meet the old man."

"I don't see how it can be arranged. Why can't it be arranged?"

"He doesn't know anything about you. Con and Bill—my husband doesn't like the circus folk and—"

"I see. I expect to stick around a while. Maybe he'll like me when he knows me."

"Con, what's come over you? Didn't Madeline tell you—"

"She told me a lot. Now listen. I don't want to be nasty. You've always been awfully nice. You know that—even if you did throw me over. And there's a story to that that needs some explaining. I haven't come all this way without a purpose. You'd better see me and see me."

quick! If you don't I'm coming out there. Where do we meet?"

"I—can't meet you now. If you'll wait—"

"I've been waiting almost twenty-four hours. Where do we meet?"

"There's a cemetery adjoining the Baptist church. I'll try to be there."

"He chuckled. 'A cemetery at the Baptist church. A typical trying place for kids. What time?'"

"To-morrow if I can make it. At noon."

"No, to-day. It's eleven now. I suppose you're a car?"

"Yes."

"At three then."

"Oh, Con?"

"I'll expect you at three in the cemetery. Don't fail me." He hung up the receiver, giving her no chance for refusal.

Mrs. Planter ducked out of the office as Con David opened the door of the booth.

CHAPTER XXV

Mrs. Planter's head was in a whirl. She had just uncovered the choicest bit of scandal it had ever been her neck to come across. Whether Madeline Sidel had been through a marriage ceremony with the animal trainer or not, whether they had ever been lovers and parted, one thing was sure. Madeline Sidel, the animal trainer had come to Lebanon for only one purpose and that was to hold a rendezvous with Bill Sidel, the circus manager.

Woman who secretly met men other than their husbands were Jesabels in the opinion of Mrs. Planter and should be ostracized. Madeline might hold her head in the air now, but after to-morrow she would not do so.

At first Mrs. Planter was uncertain just how to make use of her information. She had visions of following the guilty couple and telling Madeline what she thought of her. She soon dismissed this thought as too trivial a revenge for a terrible insult.

If she had been at liberty for the afternoon she could have spread the news for a few crows who could be trusted to see that it would kindle and flame like a forest fire before twenty-four hours passed, becoming the chief subject of conversation at Lebanon dinner tables. But Mrs. Planter knew only too well that the person most concerned in the affair might never hear this scandal. Madeline might meet her lover over and over again and everyone in town be aware of it without Bill Sidel learning what was going on. Madeline Freeman was a woman who would not let her boarder since last June. Everybody by miles around knew what she was doing. She had voted Clara, and Bill found out about Madeline, the two men could console each other.

Not that Clara Freeman was as ornery as Madeline. She might have some excuse—with a doctor for a husband and him chasing off day and night, never able to take her any place.

Mrs. Planter recalled, with righteous pride, that when the sewing circle of the church had held a meeting to discuss the advisability of telling Doc Freeman he should keep a closer watch on his wife, she had voted to tell Doc Freeman that she was opposed to meddling did not rob Mrs. Planter of feeling that she was a kindly, generous soul.

But no meeting to determine whether or not Bill should be kept in ignorance need be held. In the first place, neither Madeline nor Bill

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

TUESDAY, JULY 17, 1934

Benefic and adverse planetary aspects appear to indicate today, according to astrologers, a day for careful procedure, especially in financial matters. It is a day when the stars indicate that the person who is in a position to do good by his or her actions will be rewarded. The stars also indicate that the person who is in a position to do harm by his or her actions will be punished.

This may be a disappointing direction of the stars for persons of romantic nature. Less fortunate and a decided sign in the time of sentimental feeling may be the fact that the stars indicate that the person who is in a position to do good by his or her actions will be rewarded. The stars also indicate that the person who is in a position to do harm by his or her actions will be punished.

Persons whose birthdays it is have the support of the stars in business affairs, but reverses in courtship and matrimony should be carefully watched. Children born on this day will be of confident nature and well-balanced character. Subjects of the day should be energetic and enterprising.

James A. Allen, of great wealth for trade and early capital, was born on this day. The father who celebrated his birthday on this day, Elizabeth Gary, statesman 1794, and Isaac Watts, English Congregational divine, 1694.

TRADE GAINS CONSOLIDATED

Large Decrease in Number of Failures is Feature of Business Revival

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, July 16.—Canada's trade continues the steady pace of the last few months, and the gains registered since the upward trend began have been consolidated. It is indicated in the report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association Limited for the week ending July 14.

Seasonal weather has stimulated sales of summer goods in most centres. Eastern Canada continues to lead the way in the business recovery.

Business failures during the week show a decrease of ten from the same week a year ago, failures being, respectively, twelve and twenty-two.

A 63 per cent decrease in business failures so far this year is shown, 541 in 1934, compared to 829 during the same month last year. The report for the week ending July 14 follows:

Halifax—Practically no change in reported over previous week in wholesale and retail trade.

St. John's—No material change over previous week with wholesalers reporting former gains quite well maintained. Retail summer weather has stimulated retail trade.

Montreal—All wholesale lines advance satisfactory weekly business. Ladies' and gent's clothing somewhat better. Wholesale collections, fair only; retail, still slow.

Toronto—There is a full report in business generally which can apparently be laid to summer seasonal condition. Summer resorts are reporting larger growth this year. Certain lines of sport equipment, camp requirements, cutting clothing and beach attire are moving readily. Collections fair.

Winnipeg—Very little change is noted over previous week in volume of sales in grocery and hardware lines. Volume, however, compares favorably with that of last year. Fruit and produce houses report sales as very good.

Regina—Wholesale grocery trade reported fair, although not as good as last week; dry goods report a general improvement over previous period last year; hardware fair. Wholesale collections reported fair to good, especially on current accounts.

Moos Jaw—Wholesale and retail groceries report trade for the week as fairly good. Collections fair.

Saskatoon—Wholesale grocery sales are holding up very satisfactorily and show quite an improvement compared to this period for 1933. Oil and creases report sales only fair, although improvement is expected in sales with the better road conditions. Retail trade report sales are just fair in most lines. Good prospects for fall business.

Edmonton—Wholesale grocery sales are holding up very satisfactorily and show quite an improvement compared to this period for 1933. Oil and creases report sales only fair, although improvement is expected in sales with the better road conditions. Retail trade report sales are just fair in most lines. Good prospects for fall business.

Calgary—Wholesale grocery sales are holding up very satisfactorily and show quite an improvement compared to this period for 1933. Oil and creases report sales only fair, although improvement is expected in sales with the better road conditions. Retail trade report sales are just fair in most lines. Good prospects for fall business.

Regina—Wholesale grocery sales are holding up very satisfactorily and show quite an improvement compared to this period for 1933. Oil and creases report sales only fair, although improvement is expected in sales with the better road conditions. Retail trade report sales are just fair in most lines. Vacuum Power Brakes Are Introduced to Low Price
Field; New Models Shown

Studebaker has greeted the mid-summer automobile market with a new series of "year-ahead" models. The new Studebakers, which may be inspected at the showroom of Jensen Motors Limited, Broughton Street, bring two interesting factors into the automobile industry. The first is the introduction of vacuum power brakes to the low price field. The second is the development of teardrop design and making this ultra-modern styling available to purchasers of Studebakers.

"Studebaker is pleased to carry on in the same fighting manner that has won this old corporation so much approval since the start of the slump out of the depression," said Ben Grossman, of the local Studebaker organization. "Studebaker is going forward always. This spirit has prompted the introduction of new models in the middle of the summer and these new models have been as carefully planned and built that we feel positive they will win wide-spread approval."

Every motorist has heard about power brakes. All of the highest priced cars have them. They have been proved the most efficient type of brakes. Now Studebaker offers power brakes on the The Dictator line of cars—as well as on Commander and President models. We believe the adoption of power brakes on the new Dictator models heralds a new era of safety in motoring.

"Also everybody has heard about and seen the teardrop design of the higher priced automobiles. But true teardrop design has not been available in low priced automobiles. The cars in the price group have approached it, have imitated the lines of the advanced high priced cars."

"In this manner Studebaker brings two remarkable advancements to motorists who buy inexpensive automobiles. It is typical of this old fighting company that it should lead in this development. We believe that this spirit will win widespread applause. We feel sure that the features of the new 'year-ahead' models will make the name of Studebaker very popular in this community."

especially since there were no milling crowds outside, no impatient auto-graph-seekers. Probably the pressions were due to kidnap threats which are supposed to have been made against the former recording singer and her child. Right after the final curtain Miss Holman slipped out a back door and sped toward her home on O.W.'s East Road, near the Hedgerow group patrolled the vicinity with clubs and police whistles. This was all very mystifying.

Every window of the old millbank which is the theatre, was locked, and every door was barred. Once in its seats, the audience discovered that it couldn't even go out during intermissions. At the doors were stationed members of the Pennsylvania state police, who said they were very effective in keeping anyone from ducking in or out. In addition, several members of the Hedgerow group patrolled the vicinity with clubs and police whistles. This was all very mystifying.

WYNNE GIBSON AT PLAYHOUSE
Vicki Baum's "I Give My Love" and "White Face" Are Feature Attractions
From the pre-war period of 1913 to the present, the moving day, is a far cry, but Vicki Baum's "I Give My Love," showing at the Playhouse Theatre to-day, this bridge is built. Against a background of colorful Greenwich Village in New York, the story starts with Wynne Gibson as an artist's model, and Paul Lukas as the instructor.
One of the most interesting scenes in the film is one of lower Broadway, New York, of two decades ago. Here can be seen that period's quaint styles and fashions, anti-dated automobiles and carriages.
An exact replica of a famous artist's studio, which has requested his name be mentioned, is seen in this unusual picture, which presents a vital characterization of a class of people who live in a world all their own.
The added feature is "White Face," starring Gordon Barker.

CAPITOL THEATRE
Enabling an audience to "see" music through amazing tricks of camera angles is one of the unique feats accomplished in "Hollywood Party." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's spectacular musical novelty now playing at the Capitol Theatre. The new picture, a play with music, gorgeous ballets and scores of comedy novelties, boasts a cast that includes Laurel and Hardy, Jimmy Durante, Charles Butterworth, Polly Moran, Lyle Vail, Francis Williams, Jack Pearl and many other famous funmakers.

H. B. WARNER AT EMPIRE
Has Leading Role in Warwick Deering's Story, "Sorrell and Son"
One of the most beautiful stretches of English countryside is seen in the table version of Warwick Deering's celebrated novel, "Sorrell and Son," now at the Empire Theatre.
The locale of the story, in which H. B. Warner recaptures the role of Stephen Sorrell and Hugh Williams plays the son, Kit, as a man, covers London and two country districts. The picture is typical of the English hamlet at its most picturesque, much of it dating back to the fourteenth century.
Shooting proceeded in the High Street, even when, in the days of Charles Dickens, stage coaches used to pass on their way from London to Worcester.

Popular Novel Here To-morrow
Margaret Sullivan is the star of Frank Borzage's romantic Universal drama, "Little Man, What Now?" which comes to the Dominion Theatre to-morrow night. Douglas Montgomery is in the leading role. The picture also stars Alan Hale, Roda Roper, George Meeker, Sarah Padden, Bockl Rosing, Mae Marsh and many other popular screen players.

AVOID HEAT EXHAUSTION BY EATING LIGHTLY
Tight, Heavy Clothing, Too Much Activity Under Broiling Sun, May Cause Sudden Collapse; Prompt Care Necessary
By DR. MORRIS KISHBEIN

As the hot days of summer go by, you should beware of heat exhaustion. Whether you are enjoying yourself at the beach, on the golf course or the tennis court, you may be unaware of the effects that the heat and the activity are having upon you. Hence you may suddenly fall ill from the effects of heat exhaustion.
Unless somebody in the vicinity knows just what to do, the effects may be more serious. In some cases, the first signs of heat exhaustion are giddiness, dizziness, headache and nausea, and a staggering gait when trying to walk. Since these symptoms resemble those of alcoholism, heart attack and several other conditions, you should make certain of the exact character of the disturbances as soon as possible.
If a doctor is anywhere available, he should be called at once.
The person with heat exhaustion has a skin which is pale, cool, and moist. The pulse is rapid and weak, and the breathing is very shallow and rapid. The pupils of the eyes are likely to be dilated.
The temperature in heat exhaustion is usually below normal, although occasionally it may be slightly above normal. Sometimes there are spasms of the muscles in this condition. In the ordinary case, the stricken person begins to recover promptly when put flat on his back in a cool place. In rare cases and in the very severe cases there may be unconsciousness that persists, changing eventually to coma, and leading to death.
This is especially true of people who are sick of chronic diseases of the kidney or heart, or who are anemic and who develop heat exhaustion superimposed on their chronic disease.
To avoid heat exhaustion, in hot weather you should wear clothing that is loose, light and thin. Clothing that constricts the body at any point tends to interfere with circulation of the blood and in that way side development of such disturbances.
In hot weather your diet should be light, and it is better to eat small amounts frequently than large amounts all at once. You should drink plenty of fluids, because of the loss of water from the body.
If you usually take from six to eight glasses of fluid daily, the amount may be increased to ten or twelve. Here again it is advisable to take small amounts of water frequently, rather than great amounts all at once.

"The Nuisance" At Columbia
Lee Tracy's fast-talking comedy has a remarkable new medium in "The Nuisance," wherein he plays a debonair shyster lawyer, an ambulance-chasing charlatan who survives a street-corner tussle with damage suits on cleverly faked evidence and injuries, dodges the traps of the bar association and incidentally gives his audience an amusing insight on one of the legal rackets of the day.
The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, now showing at the Columbia Theatre, romps, laughs and heart throbs, thrills and drama, with rapid-fire speed. Sensational accidents, clever skirmishes in court, legal legions, romps, laughs and heart throbs, thrills and drama, with rapid-fire speed. Sensational accidents, clever skirmishes in court, legal legions, romps, laughs and heart throbs, thrills and drama, with rapid-fire speed.
Being shown on the same programme as "I Like It That Way," starring Gloria Stuart and Roger Pryor. Also with Monday's programme starts the new serial, "The Vanishing Shadow."

Y.M.C.A. SWIMMERS TO HOLD PICNIC

Members of the Y.M.C.A. swimming club will travel to Shawnigan on Saturday to hold a picnic and swim in conjunction with the regatta. The day will be spent in sports and exhibition swims.

Chris McLean, who is in charge of the party, is calling a meeting of all members of the junior and senior swimming clubs in the "Y" pool at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday evening, to make arrangements for transportation and to discuss details of the affair.

City Hall to Be Closed Saturday

The City Hall will be closed all day Saturday as members of the inside and outside civic clubs attend the regatta and picnic at Shawnigan.

The council some time ago approved the suggestion the day be given to the employees for their yearly outing.

A good programme is being arranged for the sporting side of the function which a number of civic dignitaries will attend.

GIVEN AWARDS FOR EXHIBITS

Prizes for the best geological specimens and minerals exhibited by students of the special geology class at South Park School have been awarded to Austin Cullen, Charles Cooper, Buddy Clark and Grant Willis, according to A. H. Macdonald, conductor of the class.

The lady arranged some excellent displays which attracted considerable attention among school authorities interested in this type of work. The following boys received special mention for their exhibits: Norman Willis, Kenneth Jamieson, Donald Jupp, Harry Harvey, William Allan, Charles Bates and Glenn Smith.

Three Liners Dock From Europe Ports

Pacific Reliance, Loch Katrine and Este in This Morning With Passengers and Cargo; Other Ships Here for Lumber Cargoes

The outer docks were busy to-day with three freight and passenger liners from Europe, the Pacific Reliance and the Loch Katrine of London and the Este of Bremen. The Japanese freighter Kohwa Maru was also in port to-day, loading lumber for the Orient. The Norway Maru returned from sea with an injured stevedore, the freighters Shearwater and Bonanza rode at anchor in the Royal Roads, awaiting orders to proceed to Puget Sound ports, and the Evergreen was due here this evening to load lumber.

The Pacific Reliance, of the Puget Sound Line, came alongside the Butte piers at 9:30 o'clock this morning from ports in the United Kingdom, by way of the Panama Canal and San Francisco. Capt. Harold Young was in command and reported an uneventful voyage.

LARGE CARGO
The Reliance brought 100 tons of general cargo for discharge at Victoria and before proceeding to Vancouver late this afternoon will take aboard 4,300 cases of locally canned loganberries for the London market. She will also load some coopers' stock, including doors.

Passengers aboard the Pacific Reliance for Victoria were: Miss E. E. Barker and Miss G. C. W. Bird of London, who will visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bird of Vancouver Street, and Mrs. K. L. Wedgewood and Miss Pellety-Emery Wedgewood, who will be the guests of Major and Mrs. P. V. Longstaff at their home on George Terrace for the next few months.

Others aboard the Reliance were: Mrs. E. J. Gavina, Miss M. K. B. Hordley and William, E. Hordley, all for Vancouver, and Miss Ellen Sarrett of San Francisco, making the round trip aboard the ship.

GERMAN LINER
Making her first visit to this port, the German liner, the R. M. S. Lloyd Line, in command of Capt. Runko Kampen, docked at the Butte piers yesterday evening at 8 o'clock from Vancouver. She came here for a parcel of frozen salmon for Germany and will remain here most of the day, awaiting orders to proceed to San Francisco.

With pipes playing and the governor's flag flying from the lifeboat, Mr. Cooper was welcomed by Newfoundland government representatives, company representatives, the greetings from the King, which will be delivered at each stop as the ship proceeds north to Halifax, and was transcribed in Innuits of Eskimo.

Accompanying the message was a new record of the King's special delivery of the message to the ship. The message itself will be given in both Eskimo and English.

The test of the King George, who is the British Empire, and of Queen Mary, his wife, to the Innuits. The Queen and I wish to our deeply affected and grateful thoughts to our northern Canada and the shores of Labrador, a message of greeting from our home in the great community hall of London. In every part of the British Empire, be it ever so many miles from our encampment, the happiness of our subjects is deeply affected by the personal happiness of the Queen and myself.

"You should know that we have often heard tell that the people are happier, more friendly, or more thoughtful for their families than the Innuits. In the same way that parents are proud of their children, so the Queen and I take special pride in our faithful and hardy Innuits."

May each Innuits family thrive and may their children and grand children learn in their turn to do honor alike to their parents and to the British Empire.

On behalf of the Government of Newfoundland, M. Murphy, justice of the peace for the Labrador Coast, welcomed Mr. Cooper in the little community hall of the fishing and fur trading village. At the reception, speeches of welcome were also made by Mr. Parsons of the Anglican Mission and Dr. Paddon of the Grenfell Mission. Later there was a dinner on board the Naupoko, and in the evening a dance and fireworks celebration. After two days the Naupoko will leave again for the north.

Circe Winner Of Swiftsure Race

Trim Seattle Sloop Makes Run to Ocean and Return in Best Time

Westward Ho, Vancouver, Second; White Cloud Had Rough Time Off Lights

Forty-two and three-quarter hours after leaving Victoria, the Seattle sloop Circe returned here this morning at 12:45 o'clock, the winner of the annual Victoria-Swiftsure Lightship yacht classic. Her record run of twelve hours to the lightship could not be equalled on the return journey, however, because of dead calms, which kept the craft idle for hours at a stretch.

The Westward Ho of Vancouver was second, finishing under full sail at 2:30 o'clock this morning. The Minerva of Victoria and the White Cloud of Seattle were forced to return to port under power, when the Circe, with her skipper, saw no chance of coming in under canvas. The Westward Ho took sixty-one and a half hours to make the voyage to the open Pacific and return.

After rounding the Swiftsure lightship, the Circe had a good breeze back as far as Cape Flattery. She ran into the doldrums until Saturday at midnight. A northerly breeze sprang up then and took her back to the lightship. The Circe, then, was a light breeze Sunday morning, but off Race Rocks the craft had a regular drifting match with the tide.

BECAUSE AGAIN
It took six hours for the Circe to reach the breakwater from Race Rocks. She came immediately in to the dock, where she spent the night, proceeding to Seattle this morning at 10 o'clock, with the handsome Swiftsure trophy safely aboard.

Ray Cooke, owner of the Circe, was the skipper during the trip. With him on board were Cliff Adams and Humphrey Gully of Victoria, Ben and Jack Sealhorn, Mr. Cooke's two stepsons and John Graham Jr. It was Ben Sealhorn, at the age of eighteen years, who designed the Circe.

CLOSE SECOND
The Westward Ho rounded Swiftsure Lightship at 12:30 o'clock Saturday, only an hour after the Circe. Then she ran into a series of calms which kept her from making headway until 10 o'clock. She was then taken back to the lightship by a breeze Sunday morning, but off Race Rocks the craft had a regular drifting match with the tide.

IN SOFT SPOT
The Minerva of Victoria had a good run from Victoria to Cape Flattery before she began to drift. The White Cloud was astern at that time, and the Circe about four miles in the lead. Harry Barnes, skipper of the Minerva, headed for the lightship and a soft spot and remained there until 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The Circe, however, had no chance to round the lightship and get back to Victoria within the time limit. Skipper Barnes turned on the lights and headed for port Renfrew where he spent Saturday night. Yesterday morning the Minerva started back for Victoria and arrived just before the Circe.

With Mr. Barnes on his craft were Nan Ashby, Roy Frank Warner, Ned Ashby, Roy Denny and Stewart.

WOMAN ABOARD
The White Cloud of Tacoma was the only yacht with a woman member of the crew, the wife of one of the men. The White Cloud, too, ran into a rough weather off the lightship and shipped a good deal of water, her cockpit being filled. She was about four hours making the turn around the lightship, and at the time was in rough weather. Capt. Ned Praten was the skipper. Returning to the inner harbor here at 10:15 o'clock this morning, the White Cloud left again for Tacoma a few minutes later.

The White Cloud was the smallest member of the race, and made smart time, considering the odds that were against her in the open ocean.

Sea Cadets Stage Annual Sports Day

Visitors to Camp at Rodd Hill Had Enjoyable Afternoon; Whaler Race Provided Much Interest

Members of the Rainbow Sea Cadets Corps, who are at their annual summer camp at Rodd Hill, entertained parents and friends Saturday afternoon when they staged their sports day and held an "at home" during which the visitors inspected the camp. It was one of the most successful field days staged since the boys started a summer camp.

The location is ideal for such an outing. On the salt water, as becoming a camp for future deep-sea mariners, the Rodd Hill site commands a smart view, and is ideally equipped for outdoor living. The boys have been having a great time and have been living in the open practically twenty-four hours a day. The day is divided into periods, and from the arising bell until bedtime in the evening, the boys are kept busy with their regular duties, but also with a smart view, and is ideally equipped for outdoor living.

EXCITING RACE
Saturday's field day was featured by the whaler race between the officers' boat and the commodore's boat. The commodore's boat, in charge of Lieut. C. M. Henry and the latter in charge of Trevor Piddock, leading cadet seaman.

This race was an exciting one. The officers' crew got away to the start, but rounded the first buoy a few feet in the lead. The Piddock crew, however, gradually crept up, and on the home stretch, Trevor Piddock, leading cadet seaman, won the race.

Other events that provided plenty of interest for the spectators were the tug race, won by Lawrence Fuller, and the greasy pole contest. The programme was directed by Lieut. Henry and Lieut. P. W. Tribe, the commanding officers of the cadet corps.

TOWED CUTTER
Visitors to the camp were transported from the wharf at the foot of Pioneer Street, Esquimalt, in the Alben, P. A. Lindsay's yacht, and in a group of cutters, towed by Capt. George Kirkendall's boat. Both boats made several trips between the wharf and the camp, and also saw that the visitors were taken back to the mainland.

Tea was served during the afternoon by members of the ladies' auxiliary to the Victoria and Island Yacht Club, under the supervision of Mrs. Florence Wood. Members of the executive of the Navy League present, in addition to Col. Lindsay, the president, were Commander C. H. R. Stirling, R.N.; Capt. J. A. Phillips, Mrs. L. A. O'Connell, Nicholas Van der Vliet, E. Stoneham and Dr. J. Miller.

Among the visitors to the camp were Mrs. F. A. Lindsay, Major-General and Mrs. E. C. Ashton, Miss Ashton, Lieut-General Sir Richard Turner, V.C., and Mrs. Turner, Mrs. W. Van der Vliet, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wier, S. R. Lloyd and Major and Mrs. Fiddington.

Complete results of the sports were as follows:
Whaler race—1. No. 3 whaler, Cadet Piddock, 11:15 a.m.; 2. No. 1 whaler, Cadet Piddock, 11:15 a.m.; 3. No. 2 whaler, Cadet Piddock, 11:15 a.m.
